Curious about coding?

The Hour of Code is a global movement introducing kids to computer science, inspiring them to learn more, breaking stereotypes, and empowering them to solve challenging problems. In this workshop SUNY Geneseo students and staff will provide kids with a set of challenging activities that teach them valuable computational concepts.

Important things to know if you are thinking about attending this workshop:

- 1) You will need to bring your own laptop/tablet/smart phone to participate (or share with a friend)
- 2) This program is intended for kids ages 10 and up
- 3) Please sign up by calling Wadsworth Library at (585) 243-0440

10:00am-12:00pm

Bricks-n-Blocks

Thursday, February 22 from 1:00-3:00 pm

At this drop in program we'll be using Magna Tiles, Legos, and Q-Ba-Maze (marble run) resources to solve design challenges and test our creativity. Finish a build with each resource and complete the Bricks-N-Blocks challenge! Open to children 5 and up.

'History Houses' Presents:
The Donut Girls: a WWI
Story

Thursday, April 5 at 2:00 pm

In this brand new History Houses program, based on a true story, you will meet Helen Purviance and Margaret Sheldon who traveled with the Salvation Army to France to help our fighting boys...what could they possibly do to help?

For starters, these women tended to broken bones, offered hope, wrote letters, sang songs, and made donuts—that's right—donuts! And that donut-making led to a National Holiday here in the United States. Hear their harrowing tale, see their tent and belongings, and view the newest History House---a bombed-out cottage just right for a canteen to serve our soldiers.

Don't miss this fun family event! Be sure to stay afterward to frost and decorate your own donut to take home.
