

Wadsworth Library
Request for Reconsideration of Library Material

The Wadsworth Library subscribes to the Library Bill of Rights as adopted by the American Library Association June 27, 1967 and its subsequent amendments. This document reads, in part: "As a responsibility of library service, books and other library materials selected should be chosen for values of interest, information and enlightenment of all the people of the community." We realize that everyone's tastes are different, and that it is our responsibility to provide materials on a multitude of subjects and viewpoints, in many styles.

If you honestly feel that a book or other item in our collection does not belong in the library of a free society, we invite you to fill out this form and leave it at the front desk. The Library Director will review the form and refer it to the Board of Trustees. You will receive a written response regarding your complaint from the Board.

The Wadsworth Library believes in the rights of a free press guaranteed by the Constitution of the United States of America. We further believe that the parents or legal guardians of a child are the only people who should be allowed to monitor the reading, watching or listening activities of that child. Conversely, we believe that it is every parent/guardian's duty to monitor his or her child's activity, and that this is not the prerogative of the library.
